

What to Do After an Accident

AN ACCIDENT CAN BE OVERWHELMING, BUT TAKING THE RIGHT STEPS IMMEDIATELY CAN HELP PROTECT YOUR HEALTH, PRESERVE EVIDENCE, AND SECURE FAIR COMPENSATION.

Call the Police

Always call the police, even for minor accidents.

- If an officer arrives, they will issue a police report, which is crucial for your claim.
- If no officer responds, gather details:
- Driver's license, insurance, and vehicle information.
- Witness names and contact info.
- Photos of the accident scene, vehicles, and injuries.

Do NOT admit fault or apologize.

Seek Medical Attention

Even if you feel fine, some injuries take time to appear. Medical treatment will:

- Prevent worsening conditions.
- Provide records linking injuries to the accident.
- Strengthen your claim.

We work with providers who wait for payment until your case settles.
